

myWine Rack™

Introduction and User Guide

myWine Rack™

- Your personal Wine Log and Cellar record for your ongoing wine collection
- Provides the ability to capture details of your wine collection, maintain tasting notes, stock and inventory of each wine, bin number (if recorded) and keep a record of the source and price of your wine.
- Includes details of Wine Styles, Colours and Taste Descriptors
- You have the option to share some of your wine information and details with other myWine Rack users and in return receive details on their collection. This would include such details as the wine name, where purchased, price per bottle, wine tasting notes and rating.
- myWine Rack™ can be accessed via the web using current web browsers including MS Internet Explorer versions 7,8,9,10 & 11; Mozilla Firefox, Apple Safari, Google Chrome and Apple iPad
- These details are managed securely and stored remotely away from your property on an IBM server in the cloud. Your personal myWine Rack instance can be accessed globally 24/7

- The Wine Tasting Notes section provides the ability capture primary profile details such as Wine Type, Acidity, Tannins, Body, Fruit & Flavours and Finish.
- In addition there are free text fields where you can record your comments on Colour, Nose, Mouth, Conclusions and a 5 point score.
- The Wine Tasting Notes can be shared with other myWine Rack™ users.

Wine Tasting Notes

- Your personal Wine Log and Cellar record for your ongoing wine collection
- In addition to your personal myWine Rack™, you have the option to anonymously share your wine collection details such as where you purchased the wine, price and your tasting notes with other subscribers and users. Details are automatically pushed out to the central "Wine Tasting Notes" collection on a daily basis.
- Optionally you will also have the ability to flag to other users if you have an "over-stock" and would be willing to sell or trade with other users. It would be your responsibility to manage the exchange or sale.
- To access the "Wine Tasting Notes" just click on the button on the menu – see below.
